BIG FISH EAT LITTLE FISH

In a Word Bondholders Have All the Power and Stockholders None.

Adroit Manipulation Makes Beggars of the Letter, and the Best Thing for Intelligent Men is to Leave it Alone.

New York, June 30.—The Sun in its article on Wall street this morning says: The terrible liquidation of a bridge stock exchange values during the last three years ought to have done a great deal of good to the people of this country. True the bridge was immense but they carried salutary lessons. The eyes of the nation have been opened to the practices of banking institutions as well as of joint stock corporations. If the law givers of the country do not take any steps to remedy the existing state of affairs it will be the fault of public opinion and the press. Facts are disclosed every day which show that the subject can no longer be handled with kid gloves. The most searching investigation ought to be ordered into the condition of all institutions which hold the savings of the people. However high handed the proceedings may seem, nobody can object to them as "unprecedented." Directors have been acting against the interests of the community. "Unprecedented" not only in the history of this country, but of the world and must be paid in the future. There was never a time when men like Hewitt or Randall had a better chance to serve for themselves the brightest pages of their country's history. There never was a time when men like Ben Butler could do more for the spread of the truth and the good of the community. Through the savings masses are as a rule shrewd and intelligent, but their shrewdness does not extend beyond their particular branch of activity. They are helpless and ignorant when it comes to the question of public investment of their savings and consequently must take care of them. This can only be the legislature to which ample proof is now given that a radical change must be made if the credit of the country is maintained abroad and confidence restored at home. Among other things needing attention is one not yet publicly discussed. The relation in this country between bondholders and stockholders is unparalleled in any other. The practice of building railroad bonds is the cause of most of the existing evils. The roads ought to be built by the stockholders. If it is the country of construction or on completion the proprietors wish to make improvements and changes to mortgage their property instead of paying in cash, they must be allowed to do so, but the bonds should never be made other than income bonds with all simply provided for the interest. The very word divided means division of net profit, which is quite a different thing from interest on a loan. It is not necessary to understand this difference. Strictly speaking, no dividend should ever be paid to stockholders as long as a debt upon the property is outstanding. The railroad manufacturer will ever think of dividing any profits with his partners when the concern is in debt. But of course, as bonds have to be issued for a certain length of time, and the debt cannot be paid at once, the debtor, there may be circumstances under which a particularly prosperous concern would be embarrassed by the surplus of accumulation in its treasury. But that could easily be averted by the system of using bonds subject to calls similar to that in force in the city of New York. If the stockholders have all the power and stockholders none, and any man who goes into Wall street to-day must just as good as money whether he buys stocks or bonds, why the buyer of bonds can any day make a larger of the buyer of stock by adroitly working the directors and foreclosing the mortgage. As everybody knows there has been a great deal of foreclosing of late. The condition of street affairs from day to day does not call for comment. The market is a professional one, marked by the most unscrupulous and the best thing for intelligent men is to leave it alone. Another important aspect of imprudent loans took place Friday and Saturday but that cannot be discussed at length. But of course, that got quizzed. The squanders themselves could not have made a cent. They are simply taking the money out of the pockets of the big tags they hold. The latest story is that Vanderbilt and Gould had an interview with Worcester on Thursday, gave him at a low price all the stocks he was short of and thus secured his support for a bull campaign. If it be true, Mr. Cornwell and a number of big Philadelphia bears must have turned too, and in such case there would be nothing surprising in the stock exchange advance in prices. But the ultimate result will be the same—further liquidation. The reputation of the stock exchange is now at a fair deal, and seems "jetering out." During the week two cases occurred which look like sharp practice. Quinn, Cook & Co. sold a special dividend of the Louisville and Nashville stock at a price of $100 per share, and then sold it at $120 per share. The other case was the sale of the Louisville and Nashville stock at a price of $100 per share, and then sold it at $120 per share.

"I am all my sickness," she said, "in all my sickness." He said, "I believe that the dear Lord had a use for me in the world in this way, and that as long as He thought I had a use, He would not let me die. I ought to be there without murmuring. But of late the matter has come to me in a new light. Mr. Hickman has often sat beside me and talked with me. He read to me the promises, and led me gradually to see that I had a right to ask the Lord if my days of suffering were not about at an end, and if I might not be strong again. So I prayed, and others prayed with me and for me. It was only on Monday last that, as I lay here, praying, there came into my soul the feeling that now was the chosen time. I turned over in bed without pain, and I sat up. I lifted my feet and placed them on the floor. I moved into my chair by the bedside, and there I sat for the first time in twenty-eight or twenty-nine years. I felt but little pain and sat there for an hour. Later, by the help of my nurse, I stood on my feet and moved a half a dozen steps to the door and then came back. Spinal trouble, with complete paralysis of another character, is what has afflicted me. I have since sat up each day and been wheeled about in that invalid's chair in the next room."

She was stricken down at the age of 17, and she could not believe her physicians when they told her she would never walk again; but as year after year went by she still sat a helpless invalid, with no signs of growing better. She has been an extreme sufferer, especially during the past fifteen years, when she has been afflicted with pains in the eyes, the head, the arms, the legs, and the loins. She has lost all use of her voice.

CHOLERA PLAQUE.

Truthfulness of Official Reports Questioned—Precautionary Measures.

PARIS, June 30.—A special from Marseilles and Toulon reports a greater number of deaths from cholera than the official returns report and the truthfulness of the latter is distrusted. Mr. Hochard, chief of the Naval Health Department, reports the number of victims at Toulon at eight. Ten was the daily average of deaths last week in the navy and three in the army. There are sixty patients in the naval hospital.

Rumors are current that the commander of the Sardinia has contracted cholera, but not being the result of remorse for having introduced cholera into France.

A mosquito plague at Genoa has increased the gloomy aspect of that city.

PRECAUTIONS AT CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, June 30.—In consequence of the outbreak of cholera in France and as a precautionary measure the health department this morning commenced a systematic sanitary inspection of the city. Special attention will be given to the settlements on the outskirts, populated by foreigners, many of whom are in a diseased condition. The city will be spared to make them plague proof.

SPREADING TO ITALY.

LONDON, June 30.—Cholera has broken out in Rome, and is spreading to Italy. Two well defined cases are already reported and several persons are ill with strongly marked symptoms of the disease.

POOL SELLERS INDICTED.

Who Promptly Furnish Ball and Go to the Races.

BROOKLYN, June 30.—It was the impression among many persons that if the pool sellers at Coney Island were indicted by the grand jury that it would put an end to the races, as the race tracks there would be deserted. The sellers had timely warning and were not all frightened. The grand jury brought in about twenty indictments this morning, and within an hour after eleven were at Court with bondsman ready to furnish bail and foreclosing the mortgage. The Court, with the consent of the District Attorney, fixed the bail in each case at $1,000. The grand jury also indicted the men: Michael Murray, Douglas McConnel, James Kelly, John Kelly, Thomas Murray, John S. Stow, Frank Snyder, Mark Jordan, David Burton, and John Bridge and James Dunn. The rest of the indicted parties will probably furnish bail for their appearance to-morrow.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

The Railroad's Right to Compel a Passenger to Show His Ticket.

AUSTIN, Texas, June 30.—The Court of Appeals for Texas, Saturday, handed down a decision of importance to railroads. It was held that the rule established by railroads requiring passengers to show their tickets before entering the cars was a reasonable rule within the meaning of the law giving them the right to make rules and regulations for their own government. The case was one where a railroad was sued for putting a passenger off a train for not showing his ticket, although he had the ticket, and judgment was rendered in a lower court by the passenger. The Court of Appeals reversed the judgment and remanded the case with instructions.

A FIEND'S DEED.

A Bowlder Thrown Through a Car Window Kills an Infant.

FOUNT, O., June 30.—While the east-bound passenger train on the Indiana, Bloomington and Western Railroad was passing through Mooreland, Indiana, Friday night, some person threw a stone through the car window and struck and months-old baby lying in its mother's arms. The child died. The parents are so rude to the Philadelphia, and the case is now in the hands of the grand jury.

A LIAR AND SCOUNDREL

Are Choice Epithets Bandied About in the Springer Committee Room.

Mr. Cook, Being Snubbed, Will Seek to Establish His Character Before Another Tribunal—Detective Cullen Woodward a Fictitious Person.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The Springer Committee to-day decided not to admit further testimony by Cook relative to the charges contained in the statements made on Saturday by General Swaim and Boynton in his opinion, the statements were unqualifiedly false and unfounded in facts. Objection being made to Cook's proceeding, the witness was ordered to leave the room. Cook's law partner, Mr. Cole, took the witness stand and advanced to the stand by the previous witnesses, as relating upon him.

W. B. Wood, the detective who was then called. He explained his connection with the Star Route cases; during the course of his testimony he said that Mr. Woodward, in his opinion, was a fictitious person, a scoundrel with the case; that he aided in putting through the fraudulent claims, etc. The witness was ordered to leave the room. Mr. Woodward then asked the witness, in a heated manner, if he meant to say that he (Woodward) endorsed a certain claim.

Wood (excited): "Don't you talk in my face, or I'll stand you on your head, my little friend!"

The Chairman called the witness to order, whereupon he begged the pardon of the committee for allowing excitement to get the better of him.

"But," said he, "it that roster over here is 'going to put questions' that such language would not be tolerated. The scene, which promised to be highly sensational, was thus brought to an abrupt termination."

The witness then proceeded. A few moments later the witness was called by Woodward, whereupon Mr. Cook, who was still present, again arose and in an excited way, referring to Woodward's remarks, said:

"Now, Mr. Chairman, that is a deliberate and studied lie."

Order was again called. Mr. Cook then informed Mr. Woodward that he would prove his character before another tribunal in due time. After the testimony of no public interest, the committee adjourned until to-morrow, when Congressman Kellogg will be permitted to make a statement.

A RUNNING FIGHT

Between Nominations and the Anti-Slavery Cause.

LITTLE ROCK, June 30.—Particulars of a battle with moonshiners on Boston Mountain were received yesterday. Deputy Collector J. H. Harvey and Deputy Sheriff Hensley and Harvey, of Sevier County, made a raid on an illicit distillery about two miles southwest of Witt Springs. As the raid was being carried out, the time of their arrival they found the place deserted. They hid in the surrounding woods and waited a short time when three men appeared. Hamilton rushed in on them but met with a warm reception. One of the men fired at him with a revolver. A running fight followed, in which a dozen shots were exchanged without fatal effect. Two of the fugitives escaped. The prisoners were taken to the jail at Little Rock. The prisoners proved to be J. J. Seaton. He says his companions were N. F. TRENTON, N. J., June 30.—Richard Coleman, 30 years old, was walking past the brick yards in the upper section of the city yesterday afternoon when he heard a cry of "Murder, murder! Save me." They came from the premises of Gregory Gregory, a colored man, who was in the yard and had Gregory's family beating him with a whip. He remonstrated with Gregory and a quarrel ensued. Gregory got a double-barreled gun and buried a load of shot into Coleman's left breast and then fled. It is thought that Coleman will die. Gregory is still at large, but officers are in pursuit of him. The victim bears an excellent reputation as a peaceable citizen, while his assailant's character is quite the opposite.

BALTIMORE, June 30.—Particulars from Bowlingville, Md., show that communications were cut off last week, show that the little town was nearly swept away by the rising of the Potomac river and the heavy rain. The heavy rain was due to the works of the McCullough Iron Company, situated at the junction of the two creeks under the pressure of water in a dry and the loss will be $100,000. The water rose to the height of twenty-four feet and the houses were washed away. Most of the houses were washed away, and all that were left standing are unsafe, and will have to be rebuilt.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30.—Victor Huntington emphatically denies the story that there has been an unwarrantable disturbance of the sinking fund of the Central Pacific Railroad. He says the only Southern Pacific bonds belonging to the sinking fund sold to New York were those accumulated to meet the State aid loan of $1,000,000, which matures July 1. These bonds were sent here to pay off the State bonds as contemplated in the mortgage. The allegation by Mrs. Colton, in her suit, is simply "spite work."

The Republicans of North Carolina continue to claim that State for Blaine and Logan.

Mr. Curtis, in Harper's Weekly, says Cleveland will have the solid vote New York in the Chicago Convention under the unit rule.

SENATOR GORMAN denies that he and other Democrats held a conference at New York to devise plans to defeat the nomination of Gov. Cleveland.

EX-SENATOR CONKLING has decided to take no part whatever in the Presidential campaign, either for or against Blaine, and to be out of the way will go to Europe.

The official count of the Oregon State elections, just announced, returns B. Herman (Republican) to Congress with a majority of 2,047. There were 11,223 votes cast in favor of woman's suffrage and 28,176 against.

The prohibitionists of Indiana will call a State Convention to meet in Indianapolis on July 17th, to nominate candidates for State offices, an electoral ticket and to elect delegates to the National Convention to be held in Pittsburgh on July 23.

The City Council of Chicago, several years ago, passed an ordinance imposing a tax of two per cent. on the gross receipts of insurance companies doing business in the city, whose headquarters were outside of the State of Illinois. A short time ago a test case was submitted to the Superior Court, whose decision was made public. It holds that the ordinance was legal. A large amount of money is involved.

A clergyman in Pittsburgh, married a lady with whom he received the substantial dowry of $10,000 and a fair prospect for more. Soon afterwards while occupying the pulpit, he gave out a hymn, read the four first stanzas, and was reading the 5th.

"Forever let my grateful heart,
His boundless grace adore,
When he hither came," he exclaimed, "Alone! the choir will not sing the verse," and sat down. The congregation, noticing his apparent confusion, read the remaining lines.

"Which gives ten thousand blessings now,
And bids me hope for more."

Mr. Morgan reported favorably from the Committee on the bill to forfeit the lands granted to certain States to aid in the construction of railroads.

The House Bill limiting the time within which prosecutions may be instituted against persons charged with violating the internal Revenue laws to two years led to some debate.

Mr. Sherman opposed the bill on the ground that it opened the door to fraud. He pointed out that whisky frauds extend over a period of years, and it would be impossible to punish many of the perpetrators under such an act. The limitation was, said Mr. Sherman, extended to three years and the bill passed.

Mr. Vest reported favorably from the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds a bill for the erection of a public building at Akron, Ohio.

HOUSE.

The Deficiency Appropriation Bill was received from the Senate, soon after the House assembled, and the amendments made there were disagreed to.

Measures. Randall, Burns and Calkins were reported on conference.

Mr. Lewis (La.) introduced a joint resolution directing the Attorney General to institute proceedings for the recovery of lands granted the Louisiana Backless Railroad.

Mr. King (La.) introduced a bill appropriating $30,000 to be expended by the National Board of Health in preventing the introduction of Asiatic cholera.

Mr. Randall (Penn.) offered a joint resolution continuing for two days after to-day the appropriations for the current fiscal year for carrying on the Government.

Mr. Ellis (La.) from the Conference Committee on the Indian Appropriation Bill, submitted a report. The committee reached an agreement by mutual concessions and compromise on all but four of the 165 amendments which the Senate made to the bill. The four amendments on which the committee failed to agree related to Indian inspectors.

The House inserted in the bill the clause abolishing the office of Indian Inspector and provided for detailed army officers, not below the grade captain, to perform the duties. The Senate struck out and made a necessary appropriation to pay five inspectors now authorized at $5,000 each. The bill as agreed upon in conference is $60,015 more than when it left the House and $10,235 less than it passed the Senate. The total amount appropriated is $3,896,000, which is $2,007,407 less than its estimate.

HE GOT THERE.

He Set in to Marry the Whole Family, and He Did It.

DUNDUFF, Penn., June 30.—James J. Mooney, of Perry County, is on his second wedding trip, his first having been made fourteen months ago. He has been stopping with his bride for a few days with a relative, a farmer of Central Susquehanna County. Two years ago Mooney was suggested to be married to Anna Mooney, the daughter of a farmer in Perry County. At a Sunday-school picnic, Mooney found fault with his affianced because she received the attention of another young man. A quarrel resulted, and the engagement was broken off. Mooney then began paying his attentions to "Betty," age sixteen, a sister of his former sweetheart. They became engaged, and the day was set for the wedding. Two days before that day Miss "Betty" took offense at something her intended had said or done, and broke the engagement. Mooney was unable to change her mind, and the elder sister, his first love, who had not spoken to him since they had become estranged, wrote to him expressing her regret that her sister had treated him so shabbily. He renewed his suit to Miss Anna, and was again accepted. They were married in the spring of 1883. Mrs. Mooney died three months later. Last winter the young widower began paying his attentions again to the younger sister, who had refused to marry him a year before. She accepted him again, and they were married on Tuesday last week, and are taking the same route on their wedding tour that Mooney and his first bride took.
